The Shepherd's Dream
A Study on the Transition of Life

Nora Costley, Watercolorist, shares her artistic evolution through self-discovery and the mystery of the universe. Nora is a world traveler and holds a BA in Fine Art from the University of New Mexico. Her work has been displayed in the National Museum of Art in Washington, DC. She currently resides in the Rogue Valley.

She enjoys many forms of art including sculpture, traditional pottery making in Japan, Installation and Photography. Even as a watercolorist, Nora feels an artist does not need to stick with the same subject or medium. She prefers an artist's creation to reflect the transient beings they are, and continue to demand an evolution as individuals. She states..."for me art is a constant exploration and experimentation of self and the universe, which parallels the exploration of medium and processes." Also..."a driving force is art that stimulates personal power and freedom in myself and others."

Gallerie Karon
Gifts By The Gifted

Gallerie Karon's December show features all of our artists with gifts for the holidays. Let us be your personal shopper - bring your list - we're here to help.

The biggest news is that Gallerie Karon is expanding! Our new addition, "The Feathered Wing", will be open by the holidays! In this new area, accessible through our main gallery, is a two-part section. The first is full of small, multiple use furniture pieces for smaller spaces. The second is a special area for Oriental furniture and accessories with larger scale antique Buddhas and Quan Yins. It's a serene room far away from today's problems and filled with things that you can use to create your own serene space at home.

We'll have a Grand Opening once the expansion is completed, but the move is on!

Photographers' Gallery
Bittersweet: Yosemite 20 years Later.

Bobbi Murphy's new show, Bittersweet: Yosemite 20 Years Later, opens on Friday, December 7th at The Photographers' Gallery At The Ashland Art Center and will run through January.

Yosemite holds wonderful memories for me - of autumn walks in golden meadows and full moon nights along the Merced River listening to great horned owls call to their families on cold evenings. Tramping through spring meadows flooded with snow runoff, riotous with wild flowers. John Muir walked here and helped create America's second great National Park.

There is no denying the impact of climate change on the park: drought, fire, pine beetles have killed 129 million trees in California and Yosemite has not been spared. It is heartbreaking to see and experience while remembering how magnificent it was just a few short years ago. But the tourists come in crowds greater than ever.
